

Yeah, Write!

Mortimer Literary Agency Newsletter – JUNE 2007
(Edited version)

Hey, Everyone.

This is going to be an unusually short newsletter. I received a client's manuscript yesterday. Not earth-shaking on its own, but she's going on vacation. I had to look that word up in the dictionary. It means, "A period of rest or freedom from regular work, study, etc." Okay, so what about irregular work? Ah, well, I do know the definition of another word on the same page ... vacuum....

ROBIN MILLER w/a ROBIN CAROLL STRIKES AGAIN!

Man, it's hard to keep up with this gal. I just sold her THIRD book in her "Bayou" series, "BAYOU JUDGMENT." Here's a recap of the series and release dates:

"BAYOU JUSTICE," a Steeple Hill Love Inspired Suspense with an October 2007 projected release date.

"BAYOU CORRUPTION," a Steeple Hill Love Inspired Suspense with a February 2008 projected release date.

"BAYOU JUDGMENT," a Steeple Hill Love Inspired Suspense with a May 2008 projected release date.

Robin is busy working on book three as well as her single title, formerly titled "ENEMY PROWL," now "EXPOSURE," which grabbed second place in the Genesis contest last year. Did I mention she's also the president of the American Christian Fiction Writers? Robin, you remind me of me!

SPEAKIN' OF CLIENTS...

Yo, Gs. Wha's crackulatin'? Peep 'dis. Gotta give snaps to some of the Boos in my squad. They sure got their swerve on and I'm cheezin. Pam Hillman and Dineen Miller got the hook up.

Pam hit the deuce in the Historical Category of the Genesis, and Dineen scored a spot in the Genesis' Romantic Suspense Category.

You bettys are ill! No diggity, you're the shizzle, poppins. No wack writin'. Just potent, fire, hott, bangin', phatty manuscripts! Now that's the butta.

Prayin' this cops 'em a mad grip of bones, cheddar, grain, cake, chips, duckets, ends, scrill, bank, paper, and mo' dead presidents. Don't want 'em brizoke.

BOO-YAH!

Translation:

Hi, everyone. What's going on? Check this out. I want to congratulate to some of my friends (clients) of Mortimer Literary. They're doing great and I'm smiling too.

They finaled in two big contests. Pam Hillman is a double finalist. You gals rock! No doubt about it, you're the best, perfect in every way. No heinous writing. Just excellent manuscripts. High quality.

I'm praying this will get you a huge amount of money, 'cause I don't want my clients broke.

WHOOYA!

WISE WORDS FOR the MONTH by that Sassy sage, Kelly Mortimer

“Don't focus on your past, or it'll become your future.”

Well, time to pearl, swayze, dip out, 'cause I'm up.

Smiles,
Kelly
